SCIAA Athletic Banquet of Champions

The 5th Annual SCIAA Athletic Banquet of Champions will be held at The Holiday Inn University of Memphis on Wednesday, May 16th. Doors will open at 5:30 pm with heavy hors' d'oeuvres and refreshments with the event starting at 6:30 pm. All Fall & Winter SCIAA Champions have received invitations for the event. Spring SCIAA Champions' invitations will be sent shortly after they are decided. Team invitations will be emailed to the head coach of the team from Kai Washington. Instructions are included for the RSVP for tickets. Scholar Athlete nominations were sent to all SCIAA Athletic Directors on April 10th. Those nominations are due by April 20th. In addition to the Scholar Athlete Awards, the SCIAA will present all championship teams with a banner for their school.

These banners were sponsored in part by Well Child Inc. The evening promises to be a monumental event for the student-athletes of Shelby County Schools. The SCIAA is excited to announce the guest speaker for the 5th Annual SCIAA Athletic Banquet of Champions, Ms. AJ Andrews. AJ Andrews holds the distinction of being the first woman to ever win a Rawlings Gold Glove Award Winner! Since 1957, the Rawlings Gold Glove Award has been handed out annually to the best players in Major League Baseball. In 2016, A.J. Andrews, current professional player for the Houston-based ScrapYard Dawgs, became the first woman in history to achieve the coveted recognition at just 23 years of age. Prior to her professional career, AJ played at the collegiate level for LSU. Andrews' collegiate career highlights included two appearances in the College World Series and both SEC and National Player of the Week honors. She was a 3 time All-SEC selection and finished her career with a .354 average and 97 stolen bases. Check out AJ's social media, Twitter: @AjAndrews0609 and Instagram: aj_andrews_. AJ Andrews will also host a softball clinic for SCIAA high school softball players on May 15th. Details will be released soon!

TSSAA Partners with InSideOut Initiative

The InSideOut Initiative is honored to partner with the Tennessee Titans, Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association (TSSAA), Tennessee Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association (TIAAA), Tennessee School Boards Association, and Tennessee Athletic Coaches Association to reclaim the educational purpose of sports in school communities across Tennessee. InSideOut Initiative is sponsored by the Titans and the NFL Foundation and adopted by the TSSAA aims to eliminate a "win at all costs" mentality in high school athletics. The InSideOut Initiative promotes sports as an experience for human growth. "This is something that we feel is definitely needed," TSSAA executive director Bernard Childress said. "We've got to get back to what educational athletics is all about. "We serve a much bigger purpose than points on a scoreboard. We're trying to develop to be successful in life and to make good citizens." The program was founded by Jody Redman and former NFL player Joe Ehrmann. The program is currently in 12 states. Ehrmann said two more are being added. "We have somehow in the last 10 or 15 years moved into this win at all cost mentality," said Ehrmann, who played pro football for 13 years and was the NFL's first Ed Block Courage Award winner. "We've got to get back to educational-based."

Ehrmann, who has been a high school football coach, is currently a motivational speaker, and he spoke with Redman on Monday at an athletic directors conference in Murfreesboro. Among the states that have the initiative are California, Colorado, Georgia and Ohio. Ehrmann said the first step is to meet with school leaders across the state on the role of sports in high schools. "Why do we have them and why do we fund them," he said. "Win at all costs is connected to the scoreboard," Ehrmann said. "Education-based is about connecting student athletes to caring adults." The initiative provides teaching tools to hold schools accountable to developing the potential of students.
